As you know, Alliant Energy has established the Underkofler Excellence in Teaching Award to recognize outstanding undergraduate teaching at UW System institutions within the Alliant service area. Winners of the Alliant Energy Underkofler Awards will be honored at a special ceremony.

This year, UW System will award four Underkofler Awards in the amount of $5,000 each to eligible UW institutions in the Alliant Energy service area. One of these winners will be an academic staff member from UW-Madison.

The attached guidelines provide information on the criteria for this award and the supporting documentation needed. This information can also be found at: <https://acstaff.wisc.edu/grants-awards/uw-system-awards/>.
